ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1907. PRICE TWO CENTS.

HOW IS IT?

Our newspaper prices are always so low and the goods in our windows always bear the stamp of the high-priced kinds? The confusion is mostly with you. If you'd satisfy your curiosity and inquire, you'd always find that the fine high-priced looking things in our windows aren't near so high-priced-as you imagine. Beautiful always, but low priced—that's the force that keeps this big store going.

MAHOGANY BUREAUS,

Sounds fine, doesn't it? The sight is finer than it sounds—over 30 different designs all drawn up for inspection; beauties, every one, and so little priced you'll scarcely believe it's true. Here's one with large French pattern plate mirror, between gracefully outlined standards, base of beautifully figured wood, serpentine shaped top drawers, you'd never guess less than $25.00.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Kazanjian Company the affairs of the corporation were settled, the balance of stock of merchandise and the good-will of the company being purchased by Messrs. D. T. Broun and A. H. Bozyau, who have identified themselves with the Kazanjian Company for a good many years. There will be some important changes to take place in the Kazanjian building before the place is stocked up, necessitating the closing of the place temporarily, to the public. For the next few weeks while arrangements are being made with different contractors for the alterations, the merchandise will be offered at even lower prices than they are marked now, so as to have as little stock as possible to move away while the workmen are in, and also so as to raise as much cash as possible for the new stock, most of which has already been ordered.

As with the small space for our advertisement we will not be able to give all the particulars of this great clearance sale, we urge the buying public, especially those who are contemplating purchasing Carpets by the yard, Rugs, Mattings, or Furniture to be sure to call and see the values offered.

The Sale Begins Saturday Morning, January 26.

TWO MORE OF THE JURORS EXCUSED.

Messrs. Walker and Haas Relieved from Duty.

Two New Men Chosen Before Luncheon Recess.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Another sensation was sprung in the Thaw murder trial today when two more jurors were summarily excused by the court from further service in the case. No reason was stated in court. The simple announcement by District Attorney Jerome was to the effect that counsel for the state and defense had agreed at a conference this morning to excuse Jurors 4 and 9, David S. Walker, a son of John Brisben Walker, and Louis Haas, both unmarried. It was reported that the defense did not readily consent to the release of Walker and Haas, but Mr. Jerome was insistent in his argument and finally won Thaw's attorneys over.

The loss of the two jurors was offset before the luncheon recess was ordered by the selection of two new men, leaving but one vacant chair in the trial panel to be filled this afternoon. The jurors are Oscar A. Pink, a salesman, who replaced Mr. Walker as No. 4, and Wilbur S. Steele, a manufacturer, who replaced Haas as juror No. 9. Both of the new men are married, Mr. Pink being about 46 years of age and Mr. Steele 60.

When the two jurors were dismissed Justice Fitzgerald ordered that a new panel of talesmen should be summoned for tomorrow, but the rapidity with which the vacancies were filled indicated that the jury may be completed before final adjournment today from the panel of 100 men which was in court this morning for the first time.

Every member of the Thaw family was present today, in anticipation of the completion of the jury and the opening of the prosecution's case.

Assistant District Attorney Garvan persisted today in asking each talesman he examined if he had been "approached in any way in connection with the case." No one had.

When the seventh day's proceedings of the trial opened this morning it was expected that the one juror necessary to complete the trial panel of 12 would be secured before luncheon, and that District Attorney Jerome would deliver the opening address of the prosecution before the day was done. A panel of 100 new talesmen appeared this morning, in response to the orders issued yesterday, so there was plenty of material available for the selection of the last juror.

The defendant appeared confident that today would witness the real beginning of his fight for life, and he evidently had steeled himself for the ordeal of the district attorney's arraignment. The members of the new jury panel filled many of the seats in the rear of the court room, which have been vacant for several days through the strict enforcement of the rule forbidding admittance to the court room.

District Attorney Jerome announced that counsel for the people and the defense had agreed to excuse from further service on the jury David S. Walker and Louis Haas, jurors Nos. 4 and 9 respectively. No cause was assigned for the action.

Rumors that both Mr. Walker, who is a son of John Brisbane Walker, and Mr. Haas would be excused had been rife all the morning, and there was but little surprise in the courtroom when the decision was announced. Walker and Haas were both unmarried. The former is a real estate broker, and the latter the New York representative of a Philadelphia wholesale candy concern.

District Attorney Jerome simply announced that as the result of a conference between counsel it had been agreed to relieve Jurors 4 and 9 from any further service.

"Jurors Walker and Haas are excused and may step down," Justice Fitzgerald ordered in a loud voice. The jurymen promptly complied. Their going left three vacant chairs, and the time of reaching the taking of testimony in the famous case was again further postponed.

Four jurors in the Thaw case have now been summarily excused within three days.

It was reported that Thaw's counsel did not readily consent to the release of the two jurymen. Mr. Jerome was insistent, however, and after he had argued the matter before Justice Fitzgerald in the conference room he gained the consent of the defendant's counsel. Walker and Haas were two of the three unmarried men on the jury.

The release of the two jurors, making it necessary to fill three places in the trial panel, completely upset the theory that case might progress today to the opening arguments of the prosecution.

Thaw was visibly disappointed, though he had been apprised in advance of the decision to release Walker and Haas. It was practically at Thaw's dictation that Mr. Walker was first accepted.

Both of the released jurymen seemed taken by surprise at the proceedings and quickly left the courthouse.

As the two jurors excused from service left the court room Walker said he never dreamed of being excused. "It took me off my feet," he said. "I am just as much surprised that I have been withdrawn from the jury box as I was that I was accepted." added Mr. Walker. "I said on the stand that I knew Stanford White and some of the members of the Thaw family, and I was very much surprised when I was accepted to serve."

Juror Haas was asked if it was true that he had been seen frequently in company with Daniel O'Reilly of Thaw's counsel.

"You can say what you like," he replied. "I don't know why I was withdrawn from the jury."

Mrs. William Thaw and the other members of the prisoner's family received the news in the calm manner which has marked their attitude throughout the trial. They must have received some intimation of what was about to take place.

With three jurors still to be chosen the prosecution today had 11 peremptory challenges available and the defense seven. Mr. Jerome employed one of his in excusing the second talesman called in the new panel. He was William Wiggins, a retired decorator, who

STILL ANOTHER COLT MAN ABSENT

His Vote Reduced to 36; Goddard's Back at 41.

Newport Loan Act Passed in Concurrence.

(Special despatch to the News.)

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 31.—Again there was a change in the vote for United States Senator in the joint meeting of the two houses of the General Assembly today, but it was a change caused by the absentees and the return of one member, Senator Sumner Mowry of South Kingstown, after an absence of several days. Colonel Goddard for the first time in a number of days received his full vote, 41; Senator Wetmore retained his full vote, 31, and ex-Governor Utter his 1. The Colt ranks showed two absentees, Senator Ray G. Lewis of New Shoreham and Senator H. H. Potter of Scituate, who are kept at home by illness in their families. The vote therefore was as follows:

For H. H. I. Goddard, 41.
For Samuel P. Colt, 36.
For George Peabody Wetmore, 31.
For George H. Utter, 1.

The senate transacted practically no business and the house did but little more. The senate Republicans held a caucus and decided to support Colonel John H. Wetherell for police commissioner for Newport, and he will probably be elected tomorrow to succeed himself.

In the house the finance committee reported back the act amending the act giving the city of Newport authority to hire $500,000 in anticipation of the receipt of taxes, the amendment being necessary on account of the change in the charter. The old law authorized the committee on finance to make the loans, and the amendment provides that the hiring of the money shall be done under the direction of the Board of Aldermen. At the request of Mr. Burdick of Newport the act, by unanimous consent, was put immediately upon its passage and unanimously passed, becoming a law.

A number of other routine matters were considered, but nothing of importance was transacted.

Mr. Butler of Pawtucket introduced a bill for the granting of an eight-hour day to all state, county and municipality employes. It was referred to a committee.

A resolution appropriating the sum of $5,000 for the use of the attorney general to assist him in his work of investigating the alleged combine among the coal dealers of the state was passed.

LATEST NAVAL NEWS.

Orders to Officers and Movements of Vessels Reported Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The following orders to officers were announced by the navy department today:

Lieutenant Commander J. D. McDonald, ordered to the First lighthouse district at Portland, Me.

AT LIBERTY IN THIS COUNTRY.

Nine Smuggled Chinamen Elude Immigration Officers.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 31.—Nine of the 21 Chinamen who were arrested in this city several months ago after they had been smuggled ashore from schooner yacht Frolic, have eluded the immigration officers, and are at liberty in this country. When the cases against the aliens were called in the United States district court today the nine men were missing, and Judge Arthur L. Brown declared their bail forfeited. Efforts are now being made to locate the missing men.

Twelve of the smuggled Chinamen, who recently appealed from the deportation order issued against them, were represented in court today by counsel, who after filing his appeal was given until next Tuesday to prepare a brief.

MAY SOLVE DIFFICULTY.

California Delegation Hopeful of Solution of Japanese Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Representative Hays today said concerning the conference held at the White House yesterday between the President and members of his cabinet with the California delegation: "The Californian delegation feel very hopeful that the result of this conference and others to follow will be a solution of the Japanese difficulty that will be perfectly satisfactory to the people of California."

It is stated at the War Department that no reports had been received from any source indicating that the Japanese in Hawaii are drilling with the view to acquiring control of the island.

Regarding the appeal of the War Department to Congress from any appropriation to complete the defenses of Hawaii, it is denied that this appeal has any connection whatever with the relations between Japan and the United States.

CLEMENCEAU AND BRIAND DISAGREE

French Cabinet in Danger of Disruption.

Minister Willing to Negotiate, Premier Opposed.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The existence of the cabinet is believed to be in danger as a result of the clash in the Chamber of Deputies last night between Premier Clemenceau and Education Minister Briand. While the incident was superficially smoothed over, it is said that it was the result of a radical divergence of views regarding the modus vivendi proposition of the French bishops. M. Briand, like his chief, regards the proposition as being unacceptable in its present form, but the former believes that the war with the church has gone far enough, and that if it is possible to reach an adjustment the door of conciliation should be closed. M. Briand takes the position that negotiations with the French bishops would not lay the government open to the charge of having gone to Canossa, and that in any event the government should pause for the purpose of demonstrating to the country whether the church is sincere in its desire to effect a working arrangement.

M. Clemenceau, on the other hand, flatly rejects even the discussion of the bishops' proposition, and favors the immediate issuance of a circular to the prefects, notifying them that the conditions which the parish priests are authorized to propose are entirely unacceptable. He will brook no opposition, and at the cabinet meeting held today apparently carried his point, M. Briand and Finance Minister Caillaux being authorized to determine to whom the gifts and legacies in possession of the church shall ultimately go in default of the formation of cultural associations under the law to take over the church property. Nevertheless, the announcement at any moment of the retirement of M. Briand from the cabinet would not cause surprise, and if he goes the whole ministry will almost inevitably fall.

M. Briand succeeded in having the issuance of the circular to the prefect postponed until after the next meeting of the cabinet, having in the meantime had an opportunity to represent his views on the legality of the mayors signing contracts for 18 years, as the bishops demand.

The radical newspapers are urging M. Clemenceau not to make any further concessions to the Vatican. The opposition press regards the cabinet as doomed. The Echo de Paris remarks: "The habit of manipulating the overthrow of cabinets is so irresistible with M. Clemenceau that he has begun the work of demolishing his own ministry."

An authorized statement issued by Cardinal Richard today denies that the bishops' proposition was an ultimatum, and added: "The church is doing everything to avert the calamity of the suspension of public worship. If private worship is forced on the people the government will be responsible."

BUILDINGS SHAKEN.

Earthquake Shocks Felt in Several Towns of Illinois.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 31.—A Republic special from Vandalia, Ill., says: Every building in Vandalia was shaken by an earthquake at 11:30 o'clock last night. Many persons were aroused from sleep. The shock was accompanied by a loud rumbling.

Specials from Highland and Greenville, Ill., report severe earthquake shocks at 11:30 o'clock last night. The vibrations continued about five seconds. In many houses dishes were shaken from shelves.

TO CO-OPERATE WITH PARLIMENT

Russia Desires to Develop the Zemstoo System.

Governors Urged to Allow Full Freedom in Elections.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 31.—Premier Stolypin today issued an important circular to the governor-general, governors and prefects of Russia and the Caucasus, emphasizing the government's desire to co-operate amicably with Parliament. The premier says that the representatives of the crown are forbidden to take part in party politics, and urges the local authorities to assure full freedom in the elections. He adds they must always interpose against the revolutionary propaganda and deny false reports regarding the plans of the government.

Continuing, the premier assures the country that the imperial parliament, "which is the main factor in the regeneration of law and order in the state and of state principles, and which has the right of initiative in the domain of legislation, will find in the government a sincere collaborator in its fruitful, creative and conciliatory work."

The government, the premier asserts is aware of the great differences in settling questions connected with the transformation of political and social conditions in the present unusual circumstances, and it is satisfied that it can only succeed in regenerating Russia if its intentions are submitted to the exhaustive, practical criticism of Parliament.

Proceeding, the premier in his circular refers to the falseness of the rumors crediting the government with the intention of dissolving the new Parliament and returning to the system of government which had been rejected by the emperor.

M. Stolypin says: "The desire of the government is to develop the zemstvo system of self-government. Its chief aim is the improvement of the condition of the peasants, not only by the creation of agrarian funds, but

AGREE ON JAPANESE QUESTION.

Californians and President Roosevelt Hold Long Conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—After two hours' conference at the White House tonight regarding the Japanese question on the Pacific coast, the California delegation in Congress authorized the following statement:

"The California delegation has had a very full and harmonious discussion with the President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Navy on the serious questions relating to the Japanese on the Pacific coast. The character of the discussion leads us to feel confident that a solution will be reached satisfactory to all concerned.

"The result of the meeting is that the delegation has tonight telegraphed to the president of the San Francisco board of education and the superintendent of schools to come to Washington at once for a conference with the President and Secretary of State."

The existing treaty between the United States and Japan will expire March 12 this year. President Roosevelt has heretofore assured the members of Congress from California that he would endeavor to form a new treaty with the Japanese empire, which would meet with their entire approval, and at the same time prove satisfactory to the Tokio government. The Californians have in the past insisted on an exclusion act to bar Japanese coolies out of the United States, but it is hinted tonight that, as a result of the conference at the White House Senator Perkins and Flint, and the members of the House of Representatives from that state, have practically agreed to waive this demand and leave it to President Roosevelt to negotiate a new convention which will keep Japanese coolie labor out of this country. Japan has made it clear that she will only consider a treaty which is mutual, and what concessions this government has been asked to make have not been made public.

It was admitted at the Japanese embassy tonight that Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, has discussed the proposed treaty with the President and that they are in perfect accord. The second secretar yof the embassy, Mr. Hanihara, refused to say what concessions had been promised by this government or as to what would be satisfactory to the Tokio government. He stated, however, that Japan does not encourage her laborers to come to this country.

ROOSEVELT DECEIVED.

Senator Carter Discusses Secretary Hitchcock's Land Order.

WASHINGTON, John. 30.—Senator Carter of Montana today in the Senate took up the order issued last December by Secretary Hitchcock, which prohibits the issuance of a patent to land under any of the land laws until after examination on the ground by a special agent, and declared that the order was cruel and oppressive. He accused the Secretary of formulating a policy founded on baseless suspicions and of giving out false reports calculated to create an impression that the Western population is engaged in a veritable saturnalia of criminal conspiracy. He further asserted that President Roosevelt has been deceived and alarmed by the oft-repeated reports of the Secretary.

Senator Carter some time ago presented a resolution which denies the right of any executive officer to prevent the granting of a patent when the law under which it is claimed has been carried out.

FOR FORTIFICATION OF HAWAII.

Senate Allows $250,000 Less Than Secretary Taft Requests.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—"There is every reason why the fortifications at Hawaii should be made ready."

Secretary Taft thus expressed himself today in an urgent letter to Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, renewing his request for an additional appropriation of $350,000 for the purpose of fortifying Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Yesterday the Senate passed a bill which contained an allowance of but $100,000, which is $250,000 less than the Secretary asked for. There is now $260,000 available under last year's appropriations and the Secretary desires to expend at least $600,000 for fortifications in Hawaii. But the Secretary refrains from stating in his letter any reason why he deems it necessary to immediately fortify the Hawaiian Islands.

ELEVENTH JUROR CHOSEN.

Sixty-five Talesmen Examined Wednesday at Thaw Trial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—With 11 jurors in the box when court convenes tomorrow morning, it seems likely that the twelfth man to try Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White will be obtained before the noon recess from the second special venire of 100 men which will be in attendance. In that case, and if none of the jurors already sworn in is excused or dismissed, District Attorney Jerome will at once proceed to open for the prosecution.

The court officers were of the opinion that excellent progress had been made toward filling the jury box. Up to the present time 263 talesmen have been examined, 14 of them accepted as jurors and three of those accepted have been excused. The prosecution has exhausted 17 of its 30 peremptory challenges, while the defense has made use of 23 peremptory challenges.

Sixty-five talesmen were examined today, breaking all records of the trial. The highest number on any previous day was 51. Following the precedent of the last four days, one juror was secured during the morning session and one near the close of the afternoon sitting of the court.

The afternoon juror, Henry L. Kleinberger, a silk merchant, 42 years old and married, said he knew very little about the subject of insanity and would have to be guided by the instructions of the court in arriving at a conclusion on such a plea. His weighing of the facts in the case would be an intellectual process, he told District Attorney Jerome, and he did not think his judgment would be unduly swayed by sympathy or emotion.

SALOME NOT TO BE PRESENTED.

Decision Reached by Directors of Metropolitan and Conried Company.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A decision to discontinue the presentation of the Strauss opera "Salome" at the Metropolitan Opera House was reached today at a conference between directors of the company owning the opera house and representatives of the Conried Metropolitan Opera Company, which leases the building. The conference was the result of a protest of the owning company against further presentation of the opera.

The company owning the building was represented at the conference by J. P. Morgan, D. O. Mills, W. K. Vanderbilt, August Belmont and others. Otto H. Kahn, Robert Goelet, Ruwlins Cutlenet, H. R. Winthrop and James Speyer represented the leasing company.

It is understood that harmony prevailed, and that the Conried company agreed to withdraw Salome if the owners of the opera house continued to protest. It was agreed that operas must be approved by the owners of the building, and that no performance can be given if objected to by them.

It was reported that J. P. Morgan and W. K. Vanderbilt both offered to pay the entire cost of the production of "Salome" if it were withdrawn. The directors of the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate Company, the owners, then adopted a resolution, declining either to withdraw or modify their protest, and appointing a committee to confer with the Conried Metropolitan Opera Company to determine what proportion if any of the expense thus far incurred in the production of Salome should be borne by the owners of the building.

It will be for the committee to estimate the extent of Mr Conried's loss through the prohibition of his exploitation of the opera. The manager made a net profit of about $18,000 at his benefit the other night. More than $15,000 will have to be returned by the box office. In mounting the opera, paying for the orchestral rehearsals, advertising, more than $20,000 was expended. One of the directors said today that the company was anxious to pay its share of this loss, as some persons thought an earlier protest would have saved money for Mr Conried and his company.

The directors of the Conried Metropolitan Opera Company decided that "Salome," so long as the doors of the Metropolitan Opera House were closed against it, should not be performed anywhere in the city under their auspices. The opera will be presented, however, in cities outside of New York.

INDICTMENTS INDEFINITE.

Motion to Quash Those Found Against Standard Oil Company.

FINDLAY, Ohio, Jan. 30.—Motions to quash the indictments recently found against the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, John D. Rockefeller, the Buckeye Pipe Line, the Ohio Oil Company and the Solar Refining Company were filed in court here today. The motions will be heard in the common pleas court February 15. It is maintained that the indictments are indefinite, and are not made with sufficient certainty to enable the attorneys to prepare a defense properly, and are in a single count while several offences are charged.

ICE CREAM NECESSARY.

Moran Retracts and Refuses to Prosecute Alleged Law Breakers.

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—A number of cases of alleged violation of the Sunday laws which were appealed from the municipal court were placed on file or not prossed today by District Attorney John B. Moran, who construes the law as not applying to the delivery of ice cream or the transfer of theatrical or other luggage.

The district attorney also refused to prosecute a clerk engaged in checking baggage for local delivery, and also bakers engaged in baking bread on Sunday. Mr. Moran holds that the work of making ice cream and baking bread is necessary labor.

PERSONALS.

....Senator Albert J. Beveridge, the youthful statesman from Indiana, is the most industrious magazine writer in Congress. He contributes regularly to certain publications, and says that but for the money he earns in this way it would be unprofitable for him to remain in the Senate. Last week Senator Beveridge wrote three articles for magazines, for which he received $1,500.

They began the discharge of their duties in 1903 and since the two sweethearts, whose regards they made their 25-mile trip daily. They have had some narrow escapes from serious accidents, for they use spirited horses and have been spilled from their conveyance, but have never had a runaway.

....Jefferson Davis, who has just retired from the governorship of Arkansas, issued 1,778 pardons during the six years he served as chief executive of the state. This record is believed to stand without an equal in any state in the union. Mr. Davis was in office 2,190 days, and deducting 312 Sundays 1,878 working days are left. The total of 1,778 pardons does not include about 150 proclamations for the remitting of fines, the release of bondsmen and similar cases.

....Harry K. Thaw and his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, are being sued by Dr. Charles L. Dana for $1,000, that being the fee demanded by the alienist for examining into the sanity of the prisoner last summer. Dr. Dana and Dr. Alexander McLane Hamilton were engaged by Mrs. Thaw, through ex-Judge Olcott, to examine Harry Thaw, in June. In July he made several visits to the Tombs and otherwise qualified as an expert witness for the defense. His connection with the case ceased when ex-Judge Olcott was dropped. He then sent in a bill for $1,000 for services, in addition to his retaining fee of $500.

ANGRY AT CLEMENCEAU.

Minister Briand Starts to Resign, But Is Mollified by Apology.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The Chamber of Deputies this evening concluded the discussion of and adopted the Public Meetings bill by 550 votes against 5. During the course of the debate there was a more or less exciting incident, when Minister of Education Briand left the chamber and threatened to resign. This came about because M. Clemenceau, the premier, during a reply to criticisms voiced by M. Jaures, the Socialist leader, on what he termed the "present imbroglio," admitted that incoherence existed, but said that he, the premier, although not responsible therefor, intended to stand by his colleagues.

M. Briand thereupon retired to the lobby fully determined to give up his portfolio, as he considered that the premier's remarks referred directly to himself. After repated efforts on the part of his colleague, M. Briand consented to re-consider his decision, and he finally returned to the chamber with M. Clemenceau.

The premier expressed regrets from the tribune for what he called a pure slip of the tongue, and declared that he regarded M. Briand as indispensable for the carrying out of the great reform undertaken by the government.

The resumption of the debate afforded the premier opportunity to make a further explanation of the government's attitude in the matter of the Bishops' declaration, which he designated as "an insolent ultimatum."

Farmers! Poultrymen!
We want to call your attention to the Model incubator, to our perfect chickens hatched, the production of Chas. Cyphers. It is one thing to hatch chickens and the next to have them live. If you would raise the chickens don't suffocate the eggs in an incubator that hasn't perfect air circulation and regulation. Perfect temperature is due to perfected thermostats and Chas. Cyphers owns exclusive patents in this device that excel all others.
All of the chickens hatched in our 250-egg incubator last March lived, while those of another incubator two weeks older died under the same care—A word to the wise is sufficient. See our prices and the machine at work.

CYPHER'S INCUBATORS.
For the next sixty days is the time of year that most eggs are set for early spring chickens. Chicks hatched in an Incubator are less trouble and more profitable than those hatched in the old fashioned way. In selecting your Incubator be sure that you get a Cypher's the Genuine Article, (there are none just as good) the Incubator that has made the raising of chickens a pleasure as well as profit. To take care of a flock of chickens after they are hatched is easy if you use Cypher's Brooders and Foods.
Remember that Cypher makes everything that chicks need from Eggs to Laying Hens.

THE SANITATION OF THE CITY.

As Shown by Annual Report of Board of Health.

Review of the Work of the Departments for 1906 and Recommendations Submitted.

The annual report of the Board of Health, presented to the Board of Aldermen, is as follows:

Organization.

The board organized January 1, 1906, by electing Dr. Rufus E. Darrah president and Dr. George D. Ramsay secretary. There have been 17 regular and 14 special meetings during the year.

Deaths.

The total number of deaths was 312, the smallest number since 1887, when there were 301.

The average age was 45 years, 3 months, 8 days, one decedent living to the ripe old age of 100 years and 3 months. The number of deaths under 1 year was 43.

Contagious Diseases.

There have been reported 285 cases of scarlet fever, with only 1 death; 33 cases of diphtheria with 5 deaths. Of these, 3 of the cases were not recognized in their early stage. There have been 35 cases of typhoid fever, 2 of which were imported, with 3 deaths; 24 cases of pulmonary tuberculosis have been reported with 24 deaths. Many of these cases were not known in the office until the return of death was filed; evidently there is want of co-operation on the part of some of the physicians in the effort made by this board to prevent the spread of this disease. There were 2 cases of cerebro spinal meningitis, both of which were fatal. 253 cases of measles were reported with 1 death.

Scarlet Fever.

The continuance of scarlet fever has been due to the mildness of the attack. Many of the cases were not ill enough to have a physician and many were not recognized until the disquamative stage, thus allowing the disease to spread. As soon as the cases were reported it has been recommended that the patients be sent to the emergency hospital in order that all might be under one roof, thus lessening the points for centres of contagion. All houses were fumigated from which these cases were taken.

Bacteriological Work.

The work in this department has been continued throughout the year by Dr. Robert W. Kerr, who has rendered valuable service which has been very satisfactory to this board. He has made 87 examinations of sputa for tubercle bacilli, of which 24 proved positive and 63 negative. 200 diphtheria cultures were examined: of this number 66 were diagnostic cultures, 30 cautionary cultures and 144 discharge cultures. Of the diagnostic cultures, 19 proved positive and 37 negative. Of the cautionary cultures, 29 proved negative and 1 positive. Of the discharge cultures, 66 proved negative and 48 positive. One hundred and sixty-five examinations were made for the discharge of scarlet fever cases.

He has also served on the staff of medical inspectors of schools and also examined all children sent home with suspected contagious diseases, as well as examining all cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever before they were released from quarantine.

Contagious Hospital.

On the 8th of January this year the house on the corner of Broadway and Ledyard place was leased for one year for the care of scarlet fever and diphtheria cases. On account of the large number of cases to be cared for the hospital on Maple avenue was not large enough to accommodate all who asked for admission, and it became necessary that additional quarters be provided for the care of patients.

On the 12th of March, with the diminution in numbers, all patients were transferred to the Broadway hospital and the Maple avenue hospital closed. This was done as the Broadway hospital was more easy of access.

The advisability of this has been shown, by the large number of cases cared for during the remainder of the year.

The total number of cases of all diseases cared for during the year was 191; of these 161 were scarlet fever, 27 diphtheria, 22 measles and 1 pulmonary tuberculosis. These cases represent 6964 days' treatment divided as follows—scarlet fever 5985 days, diphtheria 593 days, pulmonary tuberculosis 371 days, measles 15 days.

The total cost has been $7,361.48, which gives an average cost of $7.36 per patient per week. The carriage hire for the transportation of the patients from their homes to the hospital was $432.50; deducting this the cost per patient per week at the hospital was $7.41.

The necessity of maintaining this hospital, from a monetary point of view, is shown by the fact that if it had not been provided the cost to the city would have been $17.50 per week for each patient, or $17,410 for the year, a saving to the city of $9,596.02.

Dr. George D. Ramsay has visited the hospital daily without compensation and to his untiring energy the success of the hospital is due. The hospital has been in direct charge of Miss Annie P. Lee, a graduate of the Rhode Island Hospital, who has rendered valuable service.

It is recommended that the honorable council provide some suitable place for a permanent hospital for the care of these cases, together with a ward for the care of chronic tuberculosis patients.

School Inspection.

On the first day of January Drs. Henry V. Carroll, D. P. A. Jacoby and John H. Sweet, Jr., were appointed medical inspectors of schools at a salary of $2 per school day. They have been assisted in this work by Dr. Robert W. Kerr.

The absolute need of continuing this work, which was commenced late last year by this board, has been shown by the number of cases of contagious diseases detected, also other cases which required medical attention which were referred to the parents, in order that they might receive medical attention from their family physician.

All pupils have been examined on their return to school after vacation and when absent from any cause. The total number of examinations was 36,995. Of this number 367 were found suffering from some contagious disease. This work has been greatly aided by the services rendered by the teachers.

Provision for the continuance of this work should be made in the annual budget as it has become an established necessity. In fact, nearly all cities and large towns have adopted this system as one of the means of gaining control of contagious diseases.

Swill.

The contract for the collection of swill expired August 8, 1906, and on authority of Your Honorable Body bids for a new contract were advertised for by this board. The lowest bidder was Mr. James J. Dugan, who was awarded the contract for five years. The former contractors, Messrs. Barney & Willetts, after completing 5 years' service, retired with the best wishes of the board. The work is progressing satisfactorily now.

In the matter of the disposal of swill the board is still of the same opinion, that cremation is the only sanitary method to be used, and strongly recommends the erection of a crematory.

Milk.

The milk ordinance remains unchanged and this board has not the power to carry out the law, as it is still inadequate for the enforcement of the same.

Sewerage.

Attention is called to the necessity of changing the location of the sewer outlet near the head of Long wharf, and the immediate dredging of that part of the harbor about the Newport Yacht Club and east end of the City wharf.

Attention is again called to the necessity of a sewerage system for Gibbs avenue and Almy pond districts. Many complaints are received from inhabitants of these localities.

Night Soil.

The disposal of night soil is the same as heretofore, at the city night soil house on Briggs wharf. This method of disposal has given entire satisfaction.

Ambulance.

The necessity for an ambulance is shown by the work which has been done by carriage during the past year, and it is again recommended that one be purchased.

Respectfully submitted,
Rufus E. Darrah,
President Board of Health.

ON THE OPEN ROAD.

[Lewis Worthington Smith, in Outing.]

Out to the joy of the open road
Soon shall my feet be gone,
Led by the dreams of the heart of youth
Over the slopes of dawn.
Desert and valley and heights of snow,
Plains where the rivers run;
Jungles and steppes of the frozen North,
Islands that lake the sun,

Nautch girls that dance in the silent noon,
Sphinx of the world-old Nile;
Caravans crossing the trackless waste,
Pyramids pile on pile.
Italy, Greece and the Caucasus,
Persia and Hindostan;
I shall see them all with the heart of the boy
Alive in the heart of the man.

Glad with the love of the open road,
Free-hearted I take my way.
Cities and men and a life of change
Shall welcome me day by day.
Midnights shall pass with their starry deeps,
Noons shall have come and gone,
While still from the gray of the skies before
Breaks the Orient rose of dawn.

FIRST TIME IN THREE YEARS.

Ice Crop Being Harvested at Nantucket by Large Gangs of Men.

NANTUCKET, Mass., Jan. 31.—Icemen on this island are harvesting their crop for the first time in three years. The recent cold wave was of such severity as to make the ponds freeze to sufficient thickness for the only time in this period, and large gangs of men are at work getting in the crops before a thaw comes, the full moon enabling the companies to use night and day shifts. At Macy's pond the ice is from six to seven inches thick and of good quality and 1,200 cakes an hour have been stored in the houses. One day a record of 32 cakes a minute was made. Nantucket harbor is still frozen over, but the steamers are able to force their way through the wharf in the regular channel.

THE LONG WHARF PROJECT.

The improvement of Long wharf and the adjacent portions of the harbor is and will continue to be one of the most important problems which Newport has to solve. It is a problem which has many difficulties, and its solution will not be reached in a moment, or without considerable cost. The plan which has been presented, making a boulevard, reproduced in a recent issue of the News, is one which has many desirable features, and on the whole is an acceptable solution of the problem. Its cost is a serious objection, which, however, may not be so insurmountable as it seems to be.

Any plan of improvement which is decided upon must depend in a great measure upon the action of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company in establishing its terminals and building its depot. The company has agreed to meet the city halfway in the matter, but this proposition can hardly include more than the immediate locality of the depot and its approaches, and the main part of the improvement must come upon the municipality.

The repairs which were made to Long wharf two years ago were but a step towards the final improvement. Many of the undesirable features have been removed and the wharf is vastly better as a highway and passageway than ever before, but this is not enough. Newport desires, and ought to have, a more pleasing approach to the city than even the present Long wharf gives. It ought to have every trace of the old buildings removed; it ought to have the harbor dredged and the frontage improved; it ought to have many things changed from its present condition, to make the improvement complete. All this, it is true, will cost money, but it will be money well spent, if it is spent judiciously.

There should be an effort on the part of every citizen to further this plan, not an attempt on the part of a few land owners in the vicinity to increase their own resources by raising the values of their properties when it is known that the land may be desired for public uses. Every man is of course entitled to a fair value for his holdings, even if the city desires the land, but it is not just that prices should be raised beyond reasonable figures and the city made to pay far beyond the worth of the properties.

This whole matter of Long wharf improvement is now but in its beginning, and there are many matters connected with it which will present difficulties, but these will not prove insurmountable if they are approached in the proper spirit.

Now is as good a time as any to make a start, and a good start in the right direction is quite frequently a long advance step toward the consummation of plans. The meeting of the Citizens' Business Association this evening will give an opportunity for a general discussion of the matter, and it is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance and fair, honest discussion of the problem before the city.

THE CHINESE BOYCOTT.

Persons who have been watching our trade figures will not be surprised to learn from Consul General Rodgers at Shanghai that the alleged boycott of American goods has had nothing to do with the falling off of imports from this country, except that the importation of American flour at Hong Kong may have been slightly affected. The demand from Manchuria, where no one ever heard of the boycott, has declined and the dealers in the treaty ports had considerable stocks on hands, from which they have been able to meet this diminished demand.

There was a year ago some decline of importations of cotton cloths from this country, but it did not occur until the alleged boycott had been in progress for the greater part of a year. The exports of cottons not only were not reduced, but they were extraordinarily large for eight or nine months after the news despatches represented that there was a widespread boycott of American goods. The diminished exports which began to be noticed about a year after could easily be explained by the extraordinarily large exports during the year preceding. To this explanation Consul General Rodgers adds that the demand from Manchuria has fallen off, and this may be easily explained by the ravages of war. While the war with Russia was actually in operation trade was not much restricted. Probably war stimulates trade in certain directions, while paralyzing it in others. But after the war the normal demand suffered from the prostration of the country and the impoverishment of the people, and there were no vast armies with their attendants to supply an extraordinary demand.

Most of our exports have gone to Manchuria and North China, the sections which suffered especially from the Russo-Japanese war, and we need no tales of national boycotting of America to account for a diminished demand upon the merchants who had already overstocked themselves with American goods.

THE MASS OF LEGISLATION.

When the flood of new laws which is poured into the legislature at a single session is contemplated it is a natural question what demand there really is for such an immense amount of legislation, and whether it has a great degree of actual value. In a single day of the present session of the General Assembly of this state, for instance, enough new laws or amendments to old ones to make a body of legal enactments bigger than the constitution of the state have been introduced, and it is fair to ask what reason there is for such an avalanche and if the state would not be better off if these measures should not be enacted. Of course not a few of them are in a sense private bills, inasmuch as they affect except in a general way only some particular person or corporation. But if all the acts of this kind should be eliminated the mass which would remain would be quite formidable.

Of course it must be taken into consideration also that a large proportion of these new measures will never become laws, and in view of the multitude of them offered it is a matter of congratulation that this is so. But after the mass is simmered down to its lowest possible proportions it is probable that the residue which will receive favorable action by the law makers will be considerable in quantity if not in value. There is a quite general feeling in many quarters that there is too much tinkering with laws, both new and old, and that the result would be better if a good deal of this was stopped and the legislators should devote their time to devising means for the enforcement of the enactments already in force, or striking them from the list if it is not intended to enforce them.

There is no doubt that the statute books of the nation, the states and the cities are encumbered with many laws which ought to be better enforced, and could be if attention was given to the matter. It is also true that there is great need in this country of a higher respect for law and a more general disposition to obey the legal requirements. There is too much of a spirit of regarding the laws as something to be complied with so long as they do not interfere with one's desires and will, but to be broken with impunity when they cross the wishes and prohibit something which it is desired to do. This is a spirit which it is bad for any people to foster or even permit, and it would be well indeed if there were in this country a stronger spirit of loyalty to law and a more rigid enforcement of its mandates.

At the same time, however, enforcement of existing law is not all that is needed. There is required also from time to time, and indeed in constant continuance, the enactment of new laws to fit new conditions, and new developments of life and business. The methods of a century ago will not do in commercial circles today, and similarly the laws of 100 years ago governing the business relations of men will not suffice for the present age. The relations of people in social life are more complex now also than they formerly were, and require different laws to govern those who live together in a community or the nation. Times change and people change, and laws must change with them.

The duty of legislators, then, when they are confronted with such a large and varied assortment of new legislation as has already been presented to the present General Assembly, is to carefully sift the wheat from the chaff. That there should be some chaff in so great a mass is inevitable, and it must be eliminated. That there must also be some wheat is certain, and that is what should be sown on the statute books, that a harvest of good laws and right relations of people may be reached. There should be no law making for the simple sake of making laws, and there should be no laws enacted for private greed or party gain. The ultimate test of every piece of proposed legislation should be the good of the state and the welfare of the people. Whatever, measured by that standard, passes inspection is worthy to become a law and should be adopted, and whatever fails to pass it is unworthy and should be killed.

If the United States finally decides to build the Panama canal without giving a contract for the entire job to any general contracting firm, the government will use contractors simply as agents for doing certain parts of the work. It is said in support of this plan that the work, under government control is, already going on well, that were taken out of the Culebra cut in January, and that the amount being taken out is steadily increasing.

Chili is to have a railroad extending its entire length, from the frontier of Peru to the straits of Magellan, a distance of 2,800 miles. The Chilian congress has approved the bill for the road, which will cost $37,500,000, the government guaranteeing five per cent interest on the capital.

The United States Senate has at last fixed a date on which it will vote on the Reed Smoot case. When the vote is taken Smoot will have served nearly four years of his six-year term as Senator from Utah.

The Swettenham incident seems to be closed, although the official announcement of the Governor's resignation is yet to be made. This will probably come in time.

It is taking one's life in one's hands to hold a public office in Russia.

The weather has a way of cooling off suddenly.

A FORESTER FOR PENNSYLVANIA ROADS.

E. A. Sterling, formerly assistant forester in the Department of Agriculture at Washington, has been appointed forester of the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. Sterling will be the first forester of an American railroad. He will assume his new duties March 1.

The action of the Pennsylvania railroad in taking up forestry is for the purpose of planting trees systematically to furnish a cross tie supply in future years, and follows experiments which the company has been making in the last five years. During this time a million and a half trees have been planted on land owned by the company.

A government forestry expert was engaged last spring to assist the management in planning its forestry work, which is now to be undertaken officially by the company. Six hundred and eighty-one acres of land near Altoona, Pa., will in the springs of 1907 and 1908 be planted with chestnut and red oak seedlings.

The railroads of the country are using about 110,000,000 cross ties every year, of which number the Pennsylvania uses about 5,500,000. This great demand for the best grades of ties is denuding the forests of the country so rapidly that ties have reached the price of 70 cents each.

MAIL INCREASE CALLS FOR EXTRA CLERKS.

The increase in the postal business of the country has been so rapid that Mr. Hitchcock, First Assistant Postmaster General, has found it necessary to ask Congress for an additional appropriation of $150,000 for 600 additional postoffice clerks during the remainder of the present fiscal year.

Appeals for assistance are coming to the Postoffice Department from all parts of the country, but particularly from cities on the Pacific Coast. It is said that the increase of the mail is due primarily to the increase in the business of the country.

Workmen at John D. Rockefeller's home at Lakewood have received an increase in wages of 10 per cent, taking effect January 1. More than 40 laborers are employed in building roads, planting trees and repairing Mr. Rockefeller's private golf course. The Rockefeller estate consists of 600 acres. Mr. Rockefeller has planted more than 1,000 young evergreen trees along the driveways, and last summer he personally superintended the laying out of three miles of new roads. Road making is one of his hobbies.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Another Reduction in the Price of Gas in Providence.

Bids for Completion of New Postoffice—State House Commission Appointment.

A reduction of five cents a thousand cubic feet in the price of gas is announced by the Providence Gas Company in a circular issued yesterday. The new price, $1.05 a thousand feet, is to go into effect April 1, and users of gas will find the first reduction in their April bills, when they receive them early in May. The circular states that a discount of ten cents a thousand will be made if bills are paid before the tenth of the month. This will make the net price to consumers 95 cents a thousand. When the tenth day falls on a Sunday or a legal holiday, the discount period is extended to the close of business on the eleventh. For large consumers the following discounts are announced. Five cents a thousand feet to those using 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 feet, 10 cents a thousand to those using 5,000,000 to 10,000,000, 15 cents a thousand to those using 10,000,000 or more. The figures are based on the amount used in the calendar year and will be paid by check at the end of the year. The present price is $1.10 a thousand, with the 10 cents reduction for cash before the tenth of the month.

Bids for the completion of the interior of the new Providence postoffice building were opened at the Treasury Department in Washington yesterday. The lowest bid for the contract is that of Horton & Hemenway of Boston, who have done all the work on the structure thus far and name $406,985 as the figure at which the work will be done by them, to be completed in 18 months' time. There were eight other bidders. The preliminary work in computing the bid, including the different phases of the work, will take about a month, and it is considered likely that the work of finishing the interior of the building will begin about the first of March. If Horton & Hemenway secure the contract at 18 months, the building should be completed by September 1, 1908. About $550,000 has already been spent in the construction of four years ago, when it authorized the construction, named $1,000,000 as the figure which the structure would cost when completed, there yet remains something like $450,000. Should the Horton & Hemenway bid prove acceptable in every way to the Treasury Department, there would still be several thousand dollars with which to equip the building with elevators and postoffice lock boxes, and yet not necessitate the making of an appropriation above the figure first stipulated by Congress. It is expected by the federal officials that the amount necessary to finish the building will be appropriated by the incoming Congress. About $750,000 has already been appropriated by the government for the work and there yet remains an unexpended balance of something like $200,000 for the cost of beginning the interior work in the structure.

Governor Higgins yesterday appointed Herbert J. Wells a member of the State House Commission for three years, to succeed Colonel J. Edward Studley, whose term expires today. The appointment was announced to the senate, and, like other appointments which require the senate's consent, went to the table under the rules. Mr. Wells lives in South Kingstown, one of the towns which sent a Democratic representation to the General Assembly this session. He is also president of the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company and well known among the business and financial men of Providence. The action of the governor in naming a successor to Colonel Studley, following so closely upon the decision of the commission not to act upon the governor's request for interference in the use of the sheriff's office by General Brayton for want of jurisdiction, is creating a good deal of comment in political circles, and the action of the senate is awaited with interest.

A petition for a writ of mandamus against John P. Reynolds, superintendent of schools at Bristol, came before Presiding Justice Sweetland in the superior court yesterday afternoon, in which Samuel Kinder, father of Ralph and Hannah Kinder aged respectively seven and nine years, asked the court to compel the superintendent to allow these children to enter school again. The petitioner says that January 24 the children were sent away from the Walley Street School at Bristol and were ordered not to return for ten days. He alleges that the cause of their dismissal from school was not on account of any improper conduct, nor were they afflicted with any contagious disease. The Kinder children has been treated by Dr. C. J. Hasbrouck of Bristol for German measles. Counsel for Superintendent Reynolds stated to the court that the citation was served Tuesday night and he was not prepared to go on with the hearing yesterday. The matter was continued until next Tuesday.

Edward Crosby, a man about 65 years of age, who is working for a few days as a crossing tender at the Lonsdale station, was found beside the railroad track last evening, suffering from injuries apparently received from being struck by a train, although at the present time the circumstances of the affair was not known, because, so far as can be learned, no one saw the accident. Crosby is well known in Lonsdale and his home is on Forest avenue. For the past few days he has been acting as substitute crossing tender at the crossing north of the Lonsdale station. He was at his post during the early hours of the evening and his absence had not been noticed until the train crew of an accommodation train discovered the man lying beside the track. Dr. L. F. C. Garvin was sent for and rendered such aid as was possible. It was found that the man's right leg had been run over and he was also suffering from bruises. In the opinion of the doctor the leg would need to be amputated, and Crosby was placed on a train and taken to the Rhode Island Hospital.

Samuel Welch Brown died at his home in Providence yesterday afternoon, in the eighty-third year of his age. Mr. Brown was a descendant in the sixth generation of Chad Brown, who emigrated from England in 1638, coming to Providence Plantations, and being one of the settlers who laid out the boundaries of the town of Providence. Mr. Brown was born in Providence January 19, 1824, and was a son of Ebenezer P. and Sylvania (Jillson) Brown. On the maternal side he was a descendant of John Welch of Boston, a wood carver, who carved the codfish which hangs in the house of representatives in the Massachusetts state house. He was city clerk of Providence from 1860 to 1879, and since then had not engaged in any business pursuits. Mr. Brown was a member for many years of the Squantum Club and of the Mechanics Association. A few weeks ago he fell and injured a leg, producing what is designated as a locked knee. Owing to his advanced years it was deemed inexpedient to attempt the operation which would have given relief to a younger man, and being confined to bed without the power to move, suffering all the time intense pain, he became weak through stagnation of circulation and died of pneumonia.

BOSTON, Jan. 31, 8 A. M.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Cloudy, probably light snow tonight and warmer; Friday, snow or rain and warmer; light, easterly to southerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Rain is reported this morning in the southern states and lower Mississippi valley, and snow in the lake region and the southeast New England coast. The amounts, however, are small. An extensive area of low pressure has appeared on the northern Pacific coast. The pressure has also fallen over the central valleys and Southwest, but without defined centre as yet. The temperature is higher except in the Middle Atlantic coast states and Northeast. At 8 a. m. in New England it ranged from 24 below in parts of Vermont to slightly above in southern parts. At New York it was 15, Washington 20, New Orleans 64, Chicago 24, Denver 40, and San Francisco 52.

SPEEDING ON THE AVENUE.

Highway Thronged With Spectators and Vehicles of Every Description in Evidence.

There was a big crowd of spectators on Bellevue avenue yesterday afternoon in expectation of a match race between the horses of Messrs. J. E. Sullivan and A. J. Fludder. Neither horse was out and there was no race. There were a number of brushes of a minor nature and some lively scenes, but the conditions were not suitable for fast work. The new snow made the traveling a trifle bad for the horses and there was not a chance to get the speed that could be had over the hard road Tuesday afternoon.

Besides, the crowd on foot and in sleighs obstructed the roadway so that it would have been dangerous to have speeded. One man suggested that the only way to keep the course clear was to attach a hose to a hydrant and play a stream on the roadway. People covered the road at Narragansett avenue so that only one sleigh could get through at a time, and were reluctant to move back. In the crowd were children with sleds and others who had no business in the road, because they could not pull back fast. Then drivers of sleighs lined them along the road many feet from the curb, reducing the width available for the fast ones and the slow ones that were moving.

Everybody seemed to be there; it was a Bellevue avenue parade of the 4,000. Swill carts and coal carts and hay wagons and delivery wagons and sleighs of all kinds were on hand. Some of the horses went as fast as a good walk, some not so fast; some showed a good burst of speed, and there were a few lively brushes. Prince Alexander, an old racer, driven by Mr. Wilbur, seemed to have a trifle the better of any that went up and down regularly, but Mr. James Derby had a trotter which went down once and then came up and travelled in good style and seemed to have speed. Among those who either sat in sleighs or watched the proceedings from the sidewalk were many who once had good ones, when there was sleighing and the crowd did not crowd on the roadway, but gave the drivers all the space there was to show what speed they had.

A DUEL IN THE DARK.

One of the most exciting scenes on the modern stage occurs in the first act of Justin Huntly McCarthy's romantic play, "If I Were King." The scene is the Fir Cone Inn, during the latter part of the fifteenth century, in old Paris. It is the abode of a crowd of vagabonds, the leader of which is Francois Villon, a poet and rogue. He has fallen desperately in love with the Lady Katherine De Vaucelles, who is far above him in rank and station. However, the lady is pursued by an unwelcome admirer, and appeals to young Villon to protect her. He purposely insults the nobleman, and the two men draw their swords. Villon insists that they fight in the dark, each holding a single lantern. This they do, and never was there such a stage fight. One hears the clash of steel, and sees the flicker of the lanterns, and occasionally the fiery eyes of Francois Villon. The two men fight over tables and chairs, up and down stairways, until the point of Villon's foil reaches the heart of his adversary. Needless to say, the lady looks with favor upon the poet-hero.

SLIPPERY SIDEWALKS.

The highway department men were out this morning, sprinkling gravel on crossings, and the police were about, notifying owners of houses to make the sidewalks in front of their places safe. The thaw yesterday afternoon covered many walks with ice and made sidewalks which had been all right, anything but right, so that ashes had to be brought out to make them safe. Apparently many paid no attention to the need of ashes until the police notified them. A little care on the part of shopkeepers and owners or occupants of houses in regard to the care of the walks would be of great advantage. On Bellevue avenue yesterday the sidewalks were in much better condition than those on Thames street, so far as pedestrians are concerned.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

A good supply of ice has been secured by the local dealers, and if the weather remains favorable a surplus supply will be stacked to be housed over later.

Mr. C. E. Weeden has bought out the real estate business of A. W. Luther and will conduct it from the same office on Ferry wharf.

Mr. George Howland has completed the work of taking the school census. His reports show a total number of 204 children of school age on the island, an increase of 18 over last year.

The King's Daughters held a progressive whist social at the home of Mrs. C. E. Weeden on Greene lane yesterday afternoon, to raise money for charitable purposes. There was a good attendance and the affair was both a financial and social success. Mrs. G. L. Barber won the first prize for women. Mrs. W. C. Watson, Mrs. J. C. Tefft and Miss J. F. Weeden were tied for the consolation, the latter winning it on the cut. Mr. J. C. Tefft won the men's first prize and Mr. E. G. Littlefield the consolation.

COLDER—AND WARMER.

There was a drop in the temperature last night and this morning felt decidedly wintry. Thermometers marked from 5 to 7; at the Water Works pumping station the registry was 6, at fire department headquarters it was 7. At the latter place it was 27 at noon, a material advance, yet one that did not bring the temperature up to that of yesterday. At 2 o'clock a few flakes of snow appeared in the air and the indications are for more snow.

NEW PASTOR OF THE SWEDISH LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Rev. A. A. Dahlberg, who has been pastor of the Swedish Lutheran Church at Centreville, R. I., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Swedish Lutheran Church, Corne street, in this city, and has begun his work here. He has arranged a series of five free weekly lectures, to be given Thursday evenings in the church, beginning this evening, when his subject will be "Grandmother's Room," the lecture being in Swedish. The subject next Thursday evening will be "John and His Companions," this lecture to be in English.

THE WIDENING AT THE HAIRE BUILDING.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

If my memory serves me right, Aldermen Boyle and Kane were appointed a committee to start condemnation proceedings against the little strip of land in front of the proposed Haire block, for the widening of Thames street. The work is going on as if no such step had been taken. In the committee resting on its oars and allowing the building to be erected, making the damages to be paid when the city does widen many times greater? Another question: Whose business is it to see, in the case of new construction where old lines are eliminated, that highways are not encroached upon an inch or two, or more? There have been cases where the city has lost on its public ways in this manner. Here is a new building. How are the lines?

Newport.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. Thomas J. Lee, of the Tiverton ferry, is at home on account of a cold.

—Miss Marie Winterhoff of New York is visiting Miss Neill at "Stoneacre," Beach street.

—Mr. S. S. Van Rensselaer, Mr. and Mrs. W. Forbes Morgan and Prince Poniatowski sailed for Europe today.

—Miss Ida M. Carry has gone to New York to visit her sister, Mrs. Sanford T. Gladding, at the Hotel Breslin.

—Captain John P. Morrell, president of the Naval War College, is in Washington on duty at the Navy Department.

—Mr. J. Allen Boone, who came here from Philadelphia to visit his father, who is ill, left last night for his home in Philadelphia.

—Mr. G. R. Conklin, chief engineer of steamer City of Brockton, who was operated on at his home on Elliott place, is slowly improving.

—Mrs. John O. Rogers of Salem, Mass., is here to visit her brother, Mr. Harry A. Titus, and will leave tomorrow evening for New York to visit her sister, Mrs. H. B. Hanson.

—The Torpedo Station is shipping 20,000 pounds of smokeless powder to Indian Head, where more work will be done on it. This will clear the powder from the Torpedo Station factory.

—Among today's arrivals at the United States Hotel are R. W. Ashly, Walter Cronin and D. E. Nyen of Boston, Thomas Baker of New York, Ira J. Champlin of Providence and the Fitchburg basket ball team.

—A few days ago Mr. George F. Cozzens and Mr. Harold A. Peckham, in Captain "Tom" Shea's boat Carrie, went on a gunning expedition. In the ice off the north end of Hope Island they bagged 18 fat black ducks.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Dale and T. H. Bauer of New York, S. C. McNeil and J. R. Clarke of Boston and W. C. Randolph of St. Paul are registered at the Perry House. The "If I Were King" company is also at the hotel.

—Messrs. John D. Wright, John C. Atwater and Richard D. Graham of this city are to leave for New York tomorrow night, to engage in business. Mr. Wright has secured a place of business in New York and is to take charge at once.

—Mr. Ernest Shuter, advance manager and general press representative for the "Alice Sit By the Fire" company, which is playing in Boston this week, is at the Perry House. The production will be seen at the Opera House Monday, February 11.

—Ice carts and coal carts seem to be the favorites at present, and both are pretty busy. The ice comes from out of town, for the markets. Some comes from the ice houses, where broken cakes are thrown away and are carted off for use, being as good as whole cakes.

—The loss on the Gladding building on Touro street, which was damaged by fire last Thursday night, has been adjusted through the agency of Henry Bull, Jr., at $1,756, and the loss on the stock and furnishings belonging to James T. Allen, through the same agency, at $525.

—The Torrent Association held a special session at engine house No. 1 last night. It was a surprise party for Former President George Martin, who had done a great deal to make the association a success. The surprise party was a success and everybody had a pleasant time, including Mr. Martin.

—Bishop McVickar came here last evening and confirmed a class of 12 seamen apprentices from the Naval Training Station, presented by Chaplain Cassard. The ceremony took place in the chapel of Emmanuel Church. Bishop McVickar returning to Providence at the close of the service.

—Mr. J. K. Sullivan has completed his contract with the state for the dredging of the entrance to Point Judith salt pond. The entrance has been straightened to a width of 132 feet and dredged to a depth of 8 feet, and it is hoped that the straight and deep channel will prevent the sand from filling in as it has done.

—Commander Frank E. Sawyer, commanding the Naval Training Station, has been ordered to Washington for examination for promotion to the rank of captain. Commander Sawyer will be promoted on the retirement February 8, of Rear Admiral William W. Mead and the advancement of Captains George A. Bicknell and Seth M. Ackley.

TWO COMPANIES APPEAR.

Hearing on Right to Build Railway From Boston to Providence.

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—The contest between two companies for the right to build an inter-urban railway from Boston to Providence, R. I., was the subject today of a hearing before the railway commissioners, who after listening to preliminary remarks before counsel continued the hearing until next Wednesday. The two companies desiring the privilege are the Boston & New York Electric Road Company and the Boston & Providence Inter-Urban Electric Railroad Company. Attorney R. M. Saltonstall, representing the latter company, raised legal objections to the procedure of the Boston & New York company. He said that, whereas the articles of association published by that company name 14 towns, cities and counties, through which the proposed railroad is to pass, the plans filed by the company show that the contemplated route does not pus sthrough five of these places at all.

Furthermore counsel said the statute requires the capital subscribed to be equal to $10,000 a mile for the proposed line, and although the company's plans show a route of 35 miles the articles of association fix the capital at $300,000 instead of $350,000.

In replying for the Boston & New York company, Lawyer Samuel J. Elder stated that the company believed that only general plans were required at this time, and that detailed plans would be filed later.

The commissioners pointed out that what they wanted at this time was a general idea of the route of the railway and general data that would enable them to determine whether the amount of devastation to property involved would be justified, in view of the public necessity and convenience to be met by the proposed railroad.

Wednesday a time for viewing the line of the road will be agreed upon by counsel and commissioners.

LONG WHARF IMPROVEMENT.

Committee Reports That Property Owners Are to Hold Estates at High Prices.

There was a meeting of the joint committee on new depot and terminal facilities for Newport, at the City Hall last evening. There have been previous efforts on the part of the Representative Council committee to meet, but this was the first time it was possible to secure a quorum. The committee organized by the election of Councilman Kerr as chairman, the other members being Councilmen Patrick H. Horgan, Jeremiah K. Sullivan, Charles H. Koehne and Michael J. Durnan, with Admiral Chadwick and Captain J. P. Cotton of the Citizens' Business Association.

No action was taken by the meeting, but there was considerable discussion on the subject and Messrs. Cotton and Horgan rendered a report of their investigations on Long wharf. The railroad company has said it would like for the city to consider the clearing up of the wharf and learn the approximate cost. The committee went along from estate to estate, and reported present holding prices and the taxed value. According to this report the property would cost a large sum, as the owners want from four to ten times the assessed value of the properties. In figures the asked price is over $100,000, while the assessed value is under $35,000, for all the property on the north side of the wharf which is not now owned by the railroad company or its representatives. With such figures it was at once apparent to the committee that the only procedure would be that of condemnation.

Mr. Koehne seemed to have the impression that the railroad company was asking for charity, and thought it should pay for anything it gets; the city has given enough. The others did not appear to sympathize with this feeling, but were disposed to think the company is acting honorably in the matter and wants nothing except what it will pay for. All that is asked of the city is that which would be to its own benedt, except perhaps the prevention, through its power of condemnation, of the defeat of the project through exorbitant prices.

SCORES OF MANGLED BODIES.

Rescuers in Stuart Mine Believe No One Escaped Death.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 31.—The mangled bodies of at least 30 of the 80 or more victims of Tuesday's disaster in the Stuart mine, near Thurmond, W Va., were piled about the foot of the shaft when the rescuing party reached the mine level last evening. On account of a broken cage, it was impossible to begin their removal until today, and only one body was in condition for removal with the bucket that at first used. Instant death appears to have overcome all the miners, and a thorough investigation will be necessary to determine the cause of the disaster. That none of the 90 men who were in the mine escaped death now seems certain, and the rescuing parties are looking for more bodies as they advance farther into the mine.

The arrival of 60 coffins and an order for 25 additional gives an idea of the mining company's estimate of the probable death list. The body of John Quack, white, was taken from the shaft in the bucket, and the coroner's inquest, which begins at once, will probably be on his body. In addition to the investigation by the coroner, Chief Mine Inspector Paul and Deputy Henry are making an independent canvass.

COMPROMISE AGREED UPON.

House Committee and Railroad Men Get Together on Mail Pay.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—A compromise of the proposed reduction in railway mail pay was agreed upon today between representatives of various railroads which have mail contracts and the House committee on postoffice and post roads. The railroads were to have appeared before the commission today and tomorrow, in opposition to the reduction, but, through Representative Gage of Ohio, made a proposition to the committee to compromise and waive a hearing. The postoffice appropriation bill originally provided for a five per cent reduction on all contracts over routes averaging 48,000 pounds a day; a 10 per cent reduction on all routes averaging from 48,000 to 80,000 pounds a day; and a flat rate of $18 per ton per mile, per year on all railroads averaging more than 80,000 pounds a day. The railway men agreed to accept this cut, provided that the flat rate on routes over 80,000 pounds a day be increased to $20 a ton. The committee agreed to increase the rate from $18 to $19, and this was accepted by the railroad men.

B. G. Buckland, representing the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, and several representatives of other railways were present, some of them being ready to appear before the committee, and others dissatisfied because they alleged they had not been given sufficient opportunity to prepare for the hearing.

In addition to reducing the price per ton which railways are to be paid for hauling mail, the committee has approved a cut of $1,000,000 in the amount to be paid to railways for the rent of mail cars. The committee also decided that the weight of mail bags must not hereafter be added to the weight of mail in computing the amount carried on the various routes.

by making it possible for every energetic and diligent laborer to cultivate his own land without impairing the rights of others."

The circular also announces that the government is preparing bills providing for the settlement of labor questions, and for the regulation of educational affairs and local government, and concludes as follows:

"From this it is evident how great is the work which lies before the Imperial Parliament, the Council of the Empire and the government. The remodelling of the empire will be completed on the basis of ensuring the principles of true liberty as promised by the sovereign. The government therefore will prosecute all transgressors of the laws and firmly suppress disturbances. To this end it will apply all the legal means at its disposal until complete tranquillity prevails."

On the representations of the prefect of police that Professor Paul Milukoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats, is not entitled to the franchise, the senate has removed the name of the professor from the electoral list. Milukoff secured a license to trade, with the object of obtaining a vote in this city, but the license must be a year old before the holder is entitled to a franchise, and that period has not yet elapsed.

[illegible] FOR GROSVENOR.

Fellow Congressmen Will Compliment Retiring Veterans.

No Lawyers Permitted In Brownsville Inquiry—The Pathos of Senator [illegible] Alger's Last Hours.

[Washington correspondence of the News]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Representative Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio—"Old Figgers," as he is generally called because of his fondness for statistics and election forecasts—is to be the recipient of a very handsome compliment from his friends in the House between now and the close of the session March 3. On that date General Grosvenor will terminate 20 years of service as a Representative. He was unsuccessful in his race for re-nomination last year, his victorious opponent having been Albert Douglas, who will succeed him. General Grosvenor is perhaps the most caustic speaker in the House, and he has wounded more than one man on both sides of the chamber during his long term of office, but his associates are willing to forget all that now. Plans are being arranged for the event at which the Ohioan is to be the central figure. A fund aggregating more than $1,000 has been subscribed to purchase him a suitable testimonial.

Lawyers are not to be permitted to have anything to do with the inquiry into the facts of the riot at Brownsville, Tex., which the Senate committee on military affairs is to commence February 4. The members of the committee will conduct the taking of testimony themselves, and the full committee will participate, it having been decided not to appoint a subcommittee to handle the case. Senator Foraker, who is a member of the committee, naturally will be expected to lead in bringing out testimony favorable to the discharged negroes, while the task of proving their guilt in order to uphold the Democratic contention that the President was justified by facts, as well as authorized by law, in issuing the discharge order as he did, probably will devolve on Senator Blackburn of Kentucky. Senator Blackburn is the titular leader of the Senate minority, and it was his amendment in defense of the President's right and authority which caused the last upheaval among the Senate Republicans, who later, however, got together in support of a modified resolution of investigation which the Democratic Senator said was a victory for him, and which he accepted and helped to adopt.

The day before he died the late Senator Alger of Michigan visited the War Department and remained in the offices of Secretary Taft until late in the evening. After he had finished his business with the Secretary he chatted awhile with Mr. Taft's secretary and other attaches of the department. "I have spent many an unhappy hour in these rooms, boys," he told them. This pathetic reference to the troubles which beset him while he was Secretary of War and the United States was fighting Spain in Cuba and the Philippines is now all the more pathetic in view of the fact that Mr. Alger's sudden death came only a few hours after he uttered the words quoted. Despite the bitter criticism of his conduct of the war office, both in and out of his own party, Mr. Alger had many friends in Washington, and his death was nowhere regretted more sincerely than here.

There is a possibility that the United States treasury building, which is generally recognized as the finest example of pure architecture at the capital, will undergo some changes during the coming summer. The House committee on appropriations will recommend the appropriation of a sum of money to pay the cost of substituting granite columns for the sandstone pillars which now adorn and support the big edifice. The sandstone is disintegrating and, besides, it cannot be cleaned properly. Last year the whole building, with the exception of the columns, was cleaned by a new patent process, with the result that it has presented a mottled appearance ever since, the columns being dark and grimy and the rest of the structure clean and nearly white.

A discussion of the present tariff negotiations with Germany recalled to a veteran member of the ways and means committee a story which indicated that the late Nelson Dingley, from whom the existing tariff law takes its name, was unable to see a joke. While the bill which Mr. Dingley framed originally was in conference between the two Houses Moses P. Handy and Ferdinand D. Peck came to Washington to suggest some changes they thought ought to be made. They talked the matter over with Senator (then Representative) Hopkins of Illinois, who pointed out the impossibility of their doing anything, but told them he would introduce them to Mr. Dingley. The party went into the ways and means committee room, where Mr. Handy submitted to the Maine legislator the startling request that he and his associate be permitted to take the bill to their hotel that evening and write in it the amendments they wished to have inserted. While others present were nearly bursting in their efforts to restrain their laughter, Mr. Dingley gravely and seriously announced that he did not think it would be possible to grant the request.

Charles W. Arthur.

TO EQUALIZE MEASUREMENTS.

Differences Between Woodsmen and Manufacturers May be Settled.

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 31.—Long standing differences between the upriver woodsmen and the lumber manufacturers on the Penobscot river are expected to reach a climax in the near future, when a bill designed to equalize the standard of scaling comes up for action in the Maine legislature. Lack of uniformity in the measurement of logs at the upper and lower ends of the river has been the source of many disputes between the conflicting interests for years, and the operators who cut the logs in the woods assert that the difference has been greatly to their disadvantage. The bill which has been drawn provides for a standard of scaling, which, its promoters claim, will be a protection to the operators in the woods, and will at the same time give a fair margin of profit to the mill men who handle the logs in the lower reaches of the river.

The operators assert that in the woods logs are measured by one scale, while when the logs get down river they are measured by another scale, which causes a shrinkage amounting to from 20 to 30 per cent. This it is said has often meant ruin for the small operator, as he was obliged to pay stumpage on the scale made in the woods and was forced to sell at the shrunken valuation fixed by the town scale. On the other hand, it is asserted that the manufacturers or mill men have been gainers by the boom scaling system, as they have been able to buy by that scale and to sell the finished product by an increased scale. The bill as drawn provides for a registry office at Bangor which shall have a record of the scale of all logs, both in the woods and at the boom and at all dams or other places along the river where a scale is made. It further provides for a board of arbitration to settle all disputes over scales which may arise between operators and others.

TO CONFER WITH ROOSEVELT.

Two School Directors of San Francisco to Leave for Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—School Directors Walsh and Roncovieri will leave for Washington tonight, in response to President Roosevelt's invitation. They declare that they are determined not to allow Japanese to attend public schools other than those set aside for Orientals. The board of education will meet today to consider the subject.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The South Portsmouth Dramatic Club, though recently formed, is for the most part composed of members of experience in such work and of talent in that line. There are 32 in the club and "The Valley Farm," which they will give next week, is said to be one of the best dramas they have offered for public approval.

Miss Sadie Chase has gone to New York for her annual mid-winter visit.

Mrs. George Wyatt has returned from a visit to Boston.

Mrs. Mason of Providence, who has spent the past two months with Mrs. Robert McLeod, has gone to the home of Mrs. Joseph F. Albro of Middletown, for an indefinite period.

Mr. James Knight of Providence and Miss Sadie Wesley of East Greenwich spent Tuesday and Wednesday in town.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met with the president, Mrs. Eunice A. Greene, Tuesday afternoon, with a good attendance. The yearly report of the treasurer was read and various business matters transacted. It is hoped to celebrate Frances Willard Memorial Day, which falls on Sunday this year, by securing Mrs. J. H. Barney to speak at the Friends' Church in the morning and at the Christian Church in the evening. Failing to secure Mrs. Barney, it is hoped Miss E. P. Nichols may be obtained.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Glen Collins is visiting in New York.

—Mrs. Julia H. Eldridge of New York is temporarily at her villa at Ochre Point.

—Mrs. W. M. Marvel and family have returned from a month's visit to New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Armbrust entertained a few friends at whist last evening. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Henry St. Clair and Mrs. Fred Armbrust.

—Battleship Rhode Island sailed from her anchorage in the outer harbor at 6:50 this morning for Bradford, where she will take on board 1,500 tons of coal.

—The police have been having a wild goose chase, running down a story of a robbery at a well known stable. An inventory of everything in the stable showed that not an article was missing.

—In the police court today a lad pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement and was fined $5 and costs, after agreeing to pay back the amount due his employer. He was placed in the custody of the probation officer.

—Sister Mary Alacoque Dyer, who taught at one time in the convent school connected with St. Mary's Church in this city, and for two years was Sister Superior in the St. Thomas convent at Valley Falls, died yesterday in Valley Falls, in her fifty-ninth year.

—Notice was given yesterday to mariners that a horizontal striped bell buoy will be placed to mark Ohio ledge, Narragansett bay, about February 4. This will be in addition to the present spar buoy on the ledge, which will be retained as a permanent marker.

—Mrs. James K. Clarke, who was injured in the motor boat accident at Lake Worth, Fla., as reported in yesterday's News, is a daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. Hugh L. Willoughby of this city. Mr. Willoughby in his power boat Possum and Mr. H. L. Willoughby, Jr., in the Sea Wolf assisted in the rescue of Mrs. Clarke.

—The Newport Brown University Alumni Association will have its annual dinner this evening at the rooms of the Miantonomi Club. The Association will have as its guests President William H. P. Faunce, Harry Lyman Koopman, librarian of the university, Judge Darius Baker of the superior court, and His Honor, Mayor William P. Clarke. A quartet of undergraduate students will be present and sing college glees. A larger number of members and guests will be present than at any recent meeting of the Association.

NATURE'S CATARRH CURE.

Nearly every one suffers at one time or another with catarrh.

The natural way to cure this disagreeable disease is by applying healing medications direct to the diseased spot.

In no other way can this be done as naturally as by the use of Hyomei, breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

Put several drops of Hyomei in the inhaler and then for a few minutes four or five times a day, let the air you breathe come through it. In that way all the air that enters the nasal passages, the throat or the lungs, is filled with Hyomei's healing medication, reaching the most remote air cells of the respiratory organs, destroying all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

A few day's use of Hyomei will show how quickly it relieves all catarrhal conditions, and you will not have to use it long before you find it has effected a complete and lasting cure.

So strong is Wright & Hay's faith in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrhal troubles that with every dollar outfit they give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy gives satisfaction. They take all the responsibility and you cannot afford to suffer longer with catarrh when an offer like this is made to you.

Should extra bottles of Hyomei be needed they can be obtained for 50c., making this one of the most economical as well as the most reliable remedies for catarrh that is known.

TO PREVENT ANY DISCRIMINATION.

Roosevelt Wants Bill Passed Regarding Uniforms.

Plattsburg Case Gives Impetus to Movement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—If President Roosevelt can bring such a thing about, Congress will pass a law which will prevent discrimination against the uniform of the army or the navy. Several cases, involving this question, are pending in state courts, but the more recent case of the refusal of a skating rink proprietor at Plattsburg, N. Y., to admit two soldiers in uniform, which was sustained by Judge Everest, of the city court, has given an impetus to the movement sent on foot by the President some time ago, to insist that the uniform shall be recognized in all public places.

An interesting phase of the Plattsburg case developed today when it became known that Judge Everest recently wrote the President, stating the grounds on which he based his decision, maintaining in effect that the case was not one within the meaning of the bill of rights affecting the question of race, creed or color. He frankly expressed the opinion, however, that the matter should be taken up by Congress, and a bill passed making it an offence to discriminate against the uniform of the army or the navy. This letter was referred by the President to Chairman Jenkins, of the House judiciary committee, who took a rather conservative view as to the right of Congress to deal with the question, but suggesting that the opinion of the judge advocate and the Attorney General might be sought in reference thereto. This has been done.

In his endorsement, Judge Advocate General Davis quotes the language of the bill of rights of the state of New York, which says in part that "all persons within the jurisdiction of this state shall be entitled to the full and equal accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of inns, restaurants, hotels, eating houses," etc., subject only to the conditions "established by law and applicable alike to all citizens."

General Davis adds: "In view of the very general character of the language used in the sections above cited, it is recommended that the papers in this case be referred to the Department of Justice, with the request that it be examined, with a view to determining the propriety of obtaining a review of the decision rendered by the court of original jurisdiction."

The Hamburg-American steamship line is about to establish a direct service between New York and Rio Janeiro. The new line is to be regarded with gratification by Americans, since it will lessen the necessity, which used to be imperative, of traveling to and from Brazil by way of Europe. New York will thus be connected with Rio by British, German and Brazilian lines, with Norwegian, Japanese and others looming up as future possibilities.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by John M. Callahan.

TWO MORE OF THE JURORS EXCUSED.

was declared competent by the court and apparently was satisfactory to the defense. The first talesman called was excused by consent.

Delphin Delmas, the California attorney engaged in Thaw's defense, remained on the sick list today but his partner, Mr. McPike, was at the counsel table.

The state challenged peremptorily James P. Franklin, a paper manufacturer, who seemed about to be accepted. Alfred Flechheimer was excused for bias and Walter V. Pollard and Henry J. Robinson were excused by consent. Joseph L. Morton, the seventh talesman, said he did not think he could altogether disregard the opinion he had formed and was excused. Joseph A. Newman promptly declared he could not render an unbiased verdict and was allowed to go. Adam G. Laughlin had a firm opinion and stepped aside.

Oscar Pink, 46 years of age, salesman for a grain concern, the eighteenth talesman of the day, proved to be the next juror. When he had satisfactorily answered all the questions put by the prosecution and defense he was promptly sworn in and took his place as juror No. 4 in the seat made vacant by Mr. Walker.

Mr. Pink said he did not know Mr. White or any of his friends.

"Has any one approached you in connection with this case since you were summoned here?" asked Assistant District Attorney Garvin.

"No," the talesman replied.

Pink said he had served on a capital case many years ago. He had no prejudice against insanity as a defense.

Just before Pink was accepted Justice Fitzgerald ordered that another new panel of 100 talesmen be summoned for tomorrow. It was feared the panel which reported today might not furnish the three jurors needed. The acceptance of Mr. Pink, however, left but two empty chairs. Mr. Pink is married. The new jury panel ordered today will make 500 men in all summoned for the trial.

The second new juror, making the eleventh in the trial panel, was secured in the first talesman to follow Pink on the stand. He is Wilbur S. Steele, a manufacturer of gas plants. Mr. Steele is married and about 60 years of age. His examination was one of the briefest of the trial. He had no decided opinion, had no prejudice against any particular line of defense and knew no one connected with the case. Mr. Steele was sworn in as juror No. 9, taking the place of Louis Haas.

There was excitement as the examination of Elias D. Beighley, who succeeded Mr. Steele on the stand, neared an end. He had answered every question frankly and all challenges for cause had been withdrawn, when Thaw's attorneys interposed a peremptory challenge. It looked for a while as though the jury would be completed in one, two, three order, but the challenge upset the expectation.

Joel T. Headley had formed an opinion which disqualified him.

Henry C. Adams, the last talesman of the morning session, was peremptorily challenged by the defense. He said he knew Stanford White slightly, but this fact would not prevent his being an impartial juror.

During the luncheon recess rumors began to circulate that another juror in the case might be excused at the beginning of the afternoon session. Court had been adjourned until 2 p. m., and when that hour arrived and neither Justice Fitzgerald nor the attorneys in the case had made their appearance added color was lent to the report.

It soon developed that District Attorney Jerome had asked for a conference of the attorneys with Justice Fitzgerald. The name of the juror said to be under consideration was freely discussed, but there was nothing official to any of the statements. It was also said the defense would fight to retain the juror.

The conference ended at 2:25 p. m., having been in progress for half an hour. Mr. Jerome looked decidedly angry as he strode rapidly to his seat, and sat moodily pulling at his short moustache as the court session opened. It was evident that any plan he may have had to release a juror had been blocked by the defense, for the time being at least.

Philander Godwin was the first talesman of the afternoon session, and was excused because of scruples against capital punishment.

That Mr. Jerome was thoroughly wrought up over the result of the conference with Thaw's attorneys was shown during the examination of the next two talesmen. Frank H. Gould, a publisher, was one of these, and he was not sure whether he had formed an opinion or not.

"Can't you tell?" snapped Mr. Jerome. But before the talesman could answer he asked consent for his exclusion. It was granted.

John E. Powers, who was perhaps 60 years of age, and said he was writer on business topics, was called. Jerome asked one or two questions, and then suggested that the talesman be excused by consent.

Thaw's counsel hesitated.

"I have no further questions to ask the talesman," said the district attorney.

"We do not care to examine him," retorted Mr. Hartridge.

"Is there any challenge pending?" asked Justice Fitzgerald.

"We have none," announced Mr. Hartridge of the defense.

The talesman had not been questioned as to his competency at all, and the district attorney was forced to challenge him peremptorily. The incident added greatly to the excitement in the court room.

Mr. Hartridge declared today that none of Thaw's attorneys has given out at any time any statement as to the line of defense to be offered.

ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT.

Liberal Labor Candidate to Represent Northeast Derbyshire.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—By the greatly reduced majority of 729, W. F. Harvey, the Liberal labor candidate, who is an agent of the Derbyshire Miners' Union, was elected yesterday to represent Northeast Derbyshire in the House of Commons. The vacancy was caused by the death of Thomas D. Bolton, Liberal, whose majority at the election of 1906 was 1,769. It was a straight Conservative-Liberal fight, based on the general policies of the two parties.

TRIP TO BE PRIVATE.

King and Queen of England to Spend a Week in Paris.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra will spend a week in Paris before the opening of Parliament. Their Majesties start February 2, returning probably February 9. The trip is described officially as purely personal and private. It is, however, recalled that the previous visits of King Edward to Paris have been followed by the strengthening of the Anglo-French understanding and the general impression is that the present visit will assist in the extension of the understanding which some observers believe will result in an Inter-French military convention.

SOLDIERS DECLARED INNOCENT.

Lieutenant Drury and Private Dowd Adjudged Not Guilty of Murder.

PITTSBURG, Pa. Jan. 31.—The jury in the cast of Lieutenant Ralph W. Drury and Private John Dowd, U. S. A., charged with the murder of William H. Crowley, a citizen, returned a verdict today of not guilty.

Drury and Dowd belonged to the Ninth United States Infantry and had been on trial all the week. Crowley was shot September 10, 1903, while escaping from the arsenal grounds, where it was alleged he was stealing copper from the government buildings. The verdict does not decide the question of what is the duty of a soldier of the United States in his efforts to prevent the escape of a felon whom he has caught in the act of committing a felony. This is the question the government wanted decided.

Lieutenant Drury and Private Dowd were at once released from custody.

NOT ON PEACE PROGRAM.

Question of International Disarmament and Drago Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—It may be stated by authority that neither the question of international disarmament (including the kindred subject of restriction of armament) nor the Drago Doctrine will be placed upon the program of subjects to be considered at The Hague conference next June or July. The program of subjects for the conference is regarded as closed.

It will require an affirmative vote of the conference to take up for discussion any new subject beyond those contained in the program, and it is the hope of the Washington government that these all-important subjects, disarmament and Drago Doctrine, will receive the favorable consideration of a majority of the delegates, enabling them to be discussed.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31, Wall Street.—The stock market opened irregular, with Amalgamated Copper at 110⅜ to 111¼, American Smelting 143¼, Anaconda 27, Atchison 100, Baltimore & Ohio 115, Brooklyn Transit 73, Canadian 181¾, Colorado Fuel & Iron 47¾, Erie 34½, Great Northern preferred 164, Louisville 134½, Missouri Pacific 86½, New York Central 125⅝, Northern Pacific 154½, Ontario & Western 43¾, Pennsylvania 130¼, Reading 129¾ to 120⅝, Rock Island 25½, Sugar 129⅞, St. Paul 146¾, Southern Railway 25⅝, Southern Pacific 91½, Union Pacific 170, United States Steel 43½, United States Steel preferred 101¼, Wabash preferred 31½.

10—The opening dealings in stocks were comparatively quiet and the price changes were small as a rule, but irregular and confused. Amongst the gains the principals were Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Kansas City Southern preferred and American Tobacco preferred, which rose large fractions. Amongst the losses, Reading and New York Central were down large fractions; Toledo, St. Louis & Western, and Hocking valley preferred sold at a decline of four.

11—Much irregularity characterized the dealings. There was no such urgent selling pressure as yesterday, but demand was very languid on advances. Successful attacks were made against stocks which have a predominating influence on the market, such as Reading and Union Pacific. A large part of the selling was in stocks selling in the thirties or below. Bulls showed discouragement by the time Reading had been driven down to 119¾, and previous rises in Union Pacific and other stocks cancelled. Pretty much all of the list moved on a level with yesterday's closing prices. Prices were receding at 11 o'clock.

Noon—Money on call nominally at 3 @ 3½ per cent; prime mercantile paper 5¾ @ 6¼ per cent. The decline carried the average level of prices lower than before, but the character buying impressed the bears and they bought freely to cover shorts. A substantial recovery ensued which carried Union Pacific 1¾ and St. Paul, Canadian Pacific and Amalgamated Copper a point over last night. Elsewhere the recovery halted near last night's prices and the demand became languid again. Bonds were heavy.

Now is Your Opportunity

FOR A PAIR OF LOW CUTS FOR EASTER.

AND THE REASON WHY:

After trying for two years to supply you with Regals, where you buy the rest of your footwear, we have succeeded, and on and after March 15 you can purchase your Regals at this store.

It is a well-known fact that our goods are reliable, and we offer nothing to the public that we do not stand back of. We have therefore given this shoe a thorough test before placing it on an equal footing with our other goods, so we do not hesitate to highly recommend it.

To make room for the above shoe we will put on sale Friday morning, February 1, about 1,200 pairs of Women's $4 Low Cuts at $2.50 and about 1,000 pairs of Men's $4 Low Cuts at $2.75.

PERRY BROS. COAL CO.

"FOR THE HONOR OF FRANCE."

Drama Centering Around Cardinal Richelieu Presented by Amateurs at Trinity Guild Hall.

Trinity Guild Hall was comfortably filled last night on the occasion of the presentation for the benefit of the Parish Aid Society of St. George's Church of "For the Honor of France," a romance in four acts. Four or five years ago the play was given at the Guild hall by practically the same cast, and last night the actors repeated their former success. The play is a good one and for an amateur production the stage settings, costumes and acting last night were unusually good.

Mr. W. J. Vars as Cardinal Richelieu was excellent in make-up and acting and his presentation of the powerful cardinal compares favorably with that of many a professional. Mr. Nell Sweet was good as the Duck of Buckingham and the part of Anne of Austrie, queen of France, although a small one, was well acted by Miss Florence Carley. Joseph, attendant to Richelieu, and Lieutenant Solsigny of the Cardinal's Guards, were well taken by Messrs. C. L. and G. W. Clarke, respectively; Monsieur Le Marquis De St. Etienne, an adventurer, was in the hands of Mr. T. B. Briggs, who was particularly good in the duel with the cardinal in the second act, and Duran, messenger to the Queen, and Laport, attendant to the Queen, were respectively acted by Messrs. Benjamin T. Langley and C. Anderson. The plot of the play is laid in France during the reign of Louis XIII, about 1625, and is a romantic drama presenting the great cardinal in an attractive light.

Between the acts Masters Puddington and Bryer rendered several pleasing violin selections, accompanied by Miss Gladys Kaull and Mrs. Joseph Anthony. The executive staff of the play, to whom much credit is due, consisted of Mr. Thomas G. Briggs, manager; Mr. C. Leslie Clarke, stage manager, and Mrs. Joseph Anthony, musical director.

PLANNING FOR THE MINSTRELS.

The committee in charge of the Aquidneck Minstrels is gratified at the present condition of affairs. When the start was made there were those who doubted if it would be possible to carry out the scheme of having a combined male and female troupe, owing to anticipated difficulty in securing the latter talent. At present there is no shortage, and when the curtain rises next month there is every indication that the female chorus will be one of the best ever seen on the local stage. The male chorus is also a strong combination, while the principals and ends in both parts of the troupe have every appearance of being excellently filled. The company numbers all told nearly 100 and advances are being shown at every rehearsal. Last night the old songs were gone through with a snap, while new ones were taken up and good progress made. The entrances, marches and dances are now being drilled, as well as the straight music.

The committee last evening issued tickets that the sale may begin at once, and has adopted plans for circulating them broadly about the city. It was also voted, in view of the belief that the show will prove a great attraction for citizens, to petition dealers to close their stores both Monday and Tuesday evenings, that neither the public nor the talent may be hampered by the fact that the stores are lighted. Unless the committee greatly misjudges the situation, the event will prove both a financial and an artistic success.

ADMIRAL BROWNSON CHIEF OF NAVIGATION BUREAU.

Orders have been issued to Rear Admiral Willard H. Brownson, commanding the Asiatic station, to take charge of the bureau of navigation, Navy Department, April 20. Admiral Brownson, who will succeed Rear Admiral Converse, will thus round out a long and distinguished service in the line of the navy with a term at the head of the most important of the staff bureaus. The chief of the bureau of navigation practically controls the entire naval personnel.

Rear Admiral Brownson was in command of the armored cruiser division which left here last October for the Philippines and is now in command of the Asiatic station. Rear Admiral Converse is well known in Newport, having been in command at the Torpedo Station for several years. He was placed on the retired list of the navy May 12, 1906, but was continued at the head of the bureau of navigation after having served a full term of two years in that important position.

BETTER JOKER THAN CLEMENS.

During his residence at York, Me., Mark Twain was asked to deliver an address at a local commemoration and answered that he could by no means take predecence over native talent. One Captain Griswold, he said, was the great and only humorist of York.

It happened that, unable to command sufficient quiet for his writing in his own house, Mark had rented an attic room of the captain, laying stress repeatedly on the stipulation that he should not be disturbed by any noise. He was not disturbed, but nevertheless the work did not always go. One day he wandered down stairs and prowled around outside the house. Glancing upward he saw on the housetop over his study this sign: "Swallows are not allowed to twitter on this roof."

PAID HIS BOARD.

On a stormy night a year ago a poorly dressed old man asked Rev. J. H. Baker, a retired minister of Moosup, Conn., if he could get lodging for the night. The stranger was made welcome. The next morning he asked to remain as a boarder, and his request was granted. He said he was Jonathan T. Niles, formerly of Jewett City, but for many months a wanderer. Last fall he gave Mr. Baker $2,500 to purchase a home. The only condition was a promise that he could board with the Bakers as long as he lived. Mr. Niles died a month ago, and his will gives the Bakers $5,000 in cash and the life use of $12,000, which is to revert to the New England Southern Conference.

A WHIRLWIND GAME.

Enthusiastic Crowd Enjoys Fast Basket Ball.

Those who love basket ball and who missed the game at the armory last evening have a right to feel that they are out of luck—for there was a game. It started out fast and it ended faster, and the visitors fully sustained their reputation as fast players. The Washington Guards of Fitchburg, Mass., furnished the visiting team and for quite a while it looked as though again, as in the past, Fitchburg had something on the Newport team. In the first half they clearly outplayed the Reserves and the score, 9 to 4, for the Fitchburg team was about as the play went. This was, however, changed in the still more whirlwind-like second half, for the Reserves made the score in that half, 16 to 3, in their favor, and won out 20 to 11. This does not really represent the playing, for the visitors were nearer to the Reserves than the score shows. Perhaps a better comparison would be the score at the end of 39 minutes of play, when it stood 14 to 11 in favor of the Reserves. The last six points were made on three successive shots within one minute, the last score being made with but a few seconds of playing time left.

It was a trifle late when play began, as the visitors did not have to catch the late train. The attendance was good, though there were some vacant seats in the bleachers. The visitors in practice had made a very good impression; they were a solid, athletic looking set of young men and that they were quick on their feet and strong was amply shown by their playing. When the game started the spectators at once saw that it was to be no runaway. Both teams were on edge and the play was fast every second. The blocking was hard and so accurately did each side size up the game that in the first 10 minutes of play not a basket was made and not a foul was called. During this time the Reserves made 14 shots and the visitors 12 shots at the basket, but all were made under rather discouraging conditions, though there were a number of narrow escapes from scoring by the Reserves. Then the visitors broke the ice, Wallman scoring after ten and a half minutes of play.

A minute later Harvey evened things by dropping one in, then Roche made a foul and Conlin failed in the try. Mulligan scored for the visitors, and Harvey again evened things. Wallman scored again and Mulligan followed suit, and the visitors, led 8 to 4, when the whistle blew and the teams took a rest.

The crowd by this time was well worked up. Shouts and cries of applause and anxious moments of suspense were scattered through the 20 minutes of the half and during the intermission some felt that the Reserves were in for a defeat, while others felt that they would play faster in the second half and walk away. The visitors were a trifle slow in appearing for play and it was stated that Doherty, one of the big backs whose effective work had done so much to keep the score down, was feeling distressed by the fierceness of the play. Finally the game was on and Harvey tried for play and it was stated that Doherty, one of the big backs whose effective work had done so much to keep the score down, was feeling distressed by the fierceness of the play. Finally the game was on and Harvey soon had a chance for a foul try, but missed. Shea was thrown and twisted his ankle and time was called while he was rubbed. He seemed all right after getting on his feet, though it looked as though he was out of the game. When the first five minutes had expired neither side had scored. Then Hamm scored for the visitors and Harvey again came back with another tally. A foul was called on him and Conlin rounded, making the score 11 to 6 in favor of the visitors.

Soon Harvey scored again and at half time the Reserves were behind, 8 to 11, and the game had become fiercer in intensity than it had been in the first half. The Reserves were rushing about as they had never rushed before. Harvey was showing that none of the visitors could handle him even if they were bigger and Roche was doing wonders in the way of standing off the heavy opponents. The others were also very much in the game and so were the visitors. Harvey had another chance for a foul try and missed. As the ball bounded back Dunn caught it and caged it and the crowd began to breathe easier. Soon after Roche received the ball from a scrimmage in the corner and with one of those twisting Harvey shots dropped it cleanly into the basket. The score was now 12-11 in favor of the Reserves. Everybody was on his feet and pandemonium reigned. Time was taken out until the shouting had ceased and the crowd was still, and a few minutes later, after some sharp work, big Conlin felt the pace and there was another rest while the visitors caught their breath. At this time there remained but six minutes to play and the visitors seemed all in; the rest, however, gave them a new start and the game went on. Harvey scored again and the game looked safer. It was pretty fierce play then until the watch showed that but one minute of playing time remained. McMahon dropped one in and on the throw-up McMahon hit the ball to Harvey, who tossed it to Roche under the basket and another score was made. Harvey dropped in one of those that he alone seems able to drop out of a scrimmage and the game was over.

Some of the spectators had no voice to shout with after the first half, but those who had any voices certainly used them in the second half. It was by far the most exciting game seen at the armory this season because the Reserves were for so long behind and the strain was so great. It was not as clean and scientific a game as the Xavier game, but it was faster and more exciting, and it was basket ball all the time even if it did seem rough occasionally. Condition told at the end and the Reserves, though they did not have the weight, had the condition and Harvey had the ability to get them to use every bit in the second half to win. The line-up was as follows:

Reserves.	Washington Guards.
Harvey, l. f.	l. f., Horan
Roche, r. f.	r. f., Mulligan
McMahon, c.	c., Wallman
Shea, l. b.	l. b. Conlin
Dunn, r. b.	r. b., Doherty

Score—Reserves 20; Washington Guards 11. Baskets—Harvey 6, Roche 2, McMahon 1, Dunn 1; Horan 1, Mulligan 2, Wallman 3. From fouls—Conlin 1. Missed foul tries—Harvey 2; Conlin 1. Missed field tries—Reserves 55; Washington Guards 44. Referee—Waters.

The Reserves team will go to East Boston Friday to play and a number of enthusiasts will go to see the game. It is proposed to take the 11:20 train out of Boston and reach Fall River at 1:15. From there a special electric will be taken to this city. It enough wish to make the trip a special steam train can be run from Fall River.

STRIPPING THE OLD SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.

The work of tearing down the old Second Baptist Church has progressed far enough to show thoroughly the excellent state of preservation of the structure. Mr. Manuel, who has purchased certain parts of the building above the foundation, is wrecking it with the intention of preserving all that is still suitable and there promises to be a large quantity of valuable material, as prices range today. He has begun work in the basement or vestry, where excellent flooring and chestnut framing material is coming out.

The organ men are at present at work in the main auditorium, taking out the big organ for shipment, and the pews will soon be removed. Already a big hole has been broken through the belfry, to take out the old bell, and the wreckers are stripping the galleries, but it will be some days before great activity is shown in this part of the structure. It is the wreckers' purpose to strip the interior of the building, dropping all into the basement and carrying it out from there, so that when the exterior begins to disappear there will be little falling on the outside. The memorial windows are to be stored, against a possible time when they may be used again.

A TOMATO ORCHARD.

[Texas Farmer.]

If you could keep the frost away from a tomato vine for a couple of years it would get to be a fair sized tree. At least, it actually occurs sometimes in Florida—in years when the frost king leaves that state alone. By the same sign you can plant tomatoes in winter in Florida and have them grow all the spring and summer and fall, and under the right conditions they become very large. The mid-rib of the leaf of such a tomato plant will grow to be 18 inches long, a veritable tree limb.

As a result of having seven acres of winter tomatoes frozen out during the great freeze in Florida one grower learned something about how they stake tomatoes in Mississippi. He tried three-quarters of an acre of it in Florida, and the rows of tomato plants, hanging full of fruit, looked like a dwarf fruit orchard. It takes a lot of work, though, and time to stake and prune tomatoes, but for a kitchen garden supply, North or South, especially if space is limited, the method is ideal. Six feet is the height to which the tomatoes should be trained, and pruned to a single stem. They can be made to grow 10 or 15 feet as well, but this is an inconvenient height.

MUSKRATS AS FOOD.

[Philadelphia Record.]

One dealer on Dock street sells about 3,000 muskrats a week. These are purchased principally by negroes, who are very fond of the dish, though it is whispered that in season at some of the restaurants muskrat often masquerades as rabbit. It is somewhat similar to the latter in taste, but sweeter, and those who have eaten it pronounce it all right. For this market the rats come already skinned, and, when possible, frozen. They are found everywhere in the vicinity, but a chief source of supply is Salem, N. J., where the catching of them is something of an industry. Whenever they are found they are frozen and kept until the supply on hand is sufficient for a shipment, and then dispatched to this city. They are eaten in many small places by people who catch them, but are not sold at retail except in the larger cities.

NEARLY ALL OUT OF WORK.

Hours of 2,000 Employes at Dover Mill Cut Down.

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 31.—The working hours of 2,000 employes of the Cocheco Manufacturing Company have been cut down, as a result of the fire which destroyed the large No. 1 mill of the corporation last Saturday, with a loss of five lives. In addition to these, nearly 500 who worked in the ruined structure are out of work. The cutting down of the hours of the other employes is due to the damage caused to the lighting plant by the fire in the No. 1 mill. Manufacturers from other places who are short-handed have sent agents to this city to secure help, and already some of the operatives who are thrown out of employment temporarily have taken advantage of the offers.

TO DEFER ACTION ON SCHOOLS.

Request of California Congressional Delegation to Governor.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 31.—Governor Gillette yesterday received a telegram from Washington, signed by the Californian Congressional delegation, urging him to ask the state legislature to defer all action on the Japanese San Francisco school controversy. The message caused much stir among the members of both houses.

Governor Gillette was soon in consultation with the leaders of the senate and the assembly. A formal message to the legislature will be read to both houses today. Leading senators and assemblymen last night declared that the request from the Congressional delegation would be granted. The governor left last night for San Francisco.

ICE TRUST LOSES CASE.

Co-Operative Company Sued Because Contract Was Broken.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 31.—A decision handed down by Judge George W. Wheeler of the superior court in the case of the stockholders of the Co-Operative Ice Company and the so-called ice combination sustains the contention of the stockholders that they were entitled to receive ice at last summer at the rate of $3 a ton from the combination. The Co-Operative company was bought out by one of the constituent companies of the trust, and at the time of the purchase an agreement was made under which the purchasers were not to charge the stockholders of the Co-Operative company more than $3 a ton. After a time, the price was raised to $5 a ton, and the stockholders of the Co-Operative brought suit. Judge Wheeler, in his decision, finds that one party cannot change the contract without the consent of the other party to it.

WITHOUT USE OF STEAM.

Trains to be Able to Pass Through New Hoosac Tunnel.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 31.—Much interest is being expressed by residents of Berkshire county in the report that the construction of a new tunnel through Hoosac mountain is being contemplated by the Boston & Maine railroad. No official confirmation of the project has been obtained, but it is understood that it is under consideration by the company. Should this tunnel be dug, it would be unique in that it would be used exclusively for west-bound trains, and would be so graded that trains could pass through the entire length of the hole without the use of steam, thus doing away with the annoyance of smoke usually found in long tunnels. This, it is said, would be followed by a similar grading of the present Hoosac tunnel, which then would be used for west-bound trains.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE.

Two Colt Men Absent and His Vote Only 36.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 31.—The fourteenth ballot for the election of a United States Senator in the state legislature today, showed no material change in the voting. Senator Henry P. Potter of Scituate and Senator Ray G. Lewis of New Shoreham were both absent on account of sickness. As these two senators are Colt men, the Colt vote therefore today was reduced to 34. Goddard has 41 votes, Colt 36, Wetmore 31, and Utter 1.
